

« My dream school »

You shouldn't go to my dream school if you are afraid of high speed. I know what you think: the school bus driver is drunk and he drives at 80 miles an hour. But you are far from the reality! To reach my ideal school, you must use a ... rocket! Indeed, your destination is ... the moon! In the morning, be careful: don't be late. If you can catch a bus every 10 minutes, you won't be able to do the same with rockets!

The dress-code is really original: we've got a calendar. There is a different color for each week, and you must wear this color every day. School rules are classic:

° In the corridors, you mustn't:

-fight

-shout

-run, etc...

° You mustn't eat in class

° Mobiles or other electronic equipments are forbidden

° etc...

The teachers are very nice. They don't give us a lot of homework. We don't have any school bags because our lessons are on USB keys. In the classroom, everyone has got a laptop. It's so cool! When we are not nice, we must go and collect moon stones. What a boring sanction...

Our subjects are very different: for girls, fashion history, and for boys, driving lessons. And of course Mathematics, English lessons, and History. The sport lessons are really funny because we often do "high jump", and I'm the best of my class!

That's it... I wish this school would exist for lots of reasons. My favourite one is that teachers wouldn't be able to say:

" Stop dreaming! Come back to earth! "
