

Poem I am

I am a dreamy girl who loves animals.

I wonder that the planet worms itself so much.

I hear the shout of a bird which isn't afraid of deforestation.

I see a polar bear which has a big ice floe.

I want to stop global warming.

I am a dreamy girl who loves animals.

I pretend that the Earth was as before.

I feel happy about people taking care of the planet.

I touch the end of the world to help an animal.

I worry about endangered species going to disappear.

I cry for all the animals which died because of us.

I am a dreamy girl who loves animals.

I understand that it is necessary to act to save the world.

I say, be ecological!

I dream that all the animals would not be endangered anymore.

I try to make an effort to save a panda, a polar bear, a shark, and every other animals.

I hope that the world will be better and that everyone will help animals.

I am a dreamy girl who loves animals.
